

Budget Chief Announced by Mr. Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP)—President-elect John F. Kennedy today named Harvard professor David E. Bell as his budget director and said he is hopeful of completing, or nearly completing, his Cabinet by the end of next week.

So far, Kennedy's only Cabinet appointment has been that of Gov. Abraham A. Ribicoff of Connecticut to be secretary of Health, Education and Welfare.

That came Thursday, a few hours after Kennedy had tabbed Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan to be assistant secretary of State for African affairs.

Those were the first major selections by Kennedy except for one member of the White House staff.

Bell and Kennedy stood together on the steps of Kennedy's home for the announcement on the budget director.

Bell, 41, secretary of Harvard Littauer Center for Public Administration, stood by the president-elect's side as Kennedy made the announcement.

The first job for Bell, who served as an administrative assistant in the administration of President Harry S. Truman, will be to serve as liaison officer for the incoming Kennedy administration in discussions with Eisenhower's budget director, Maurice E. Stans.

After that he will have to start tailoring Eisenhower budget recommendations to the Kennedy team.

The post to which Kennedy appointed Bell is a key one in any administration.

The selection of Bell is the third top-level assignment made by Kennedy outside of his immediate White House staff.

He tabbed Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan Thursday for assistant secretary of state for African affairs, and later named Connecticut's Gov. Abraham Ribicoff to be secretary of health, education and welfare.

Kennedy said Bell will start work next week, at the Budget Bureau. If this is agreeable to the President, (Eisenhower) but in any event will start his tasks at the beginning of the week.

The president-elect said Mike Feldman, a member of his Senate office staff, will serve as an assistant to Bell until the start of the Kennedy administration, then shift over to become a member of the White House staff.

Kennedy and Bell had never met until they conferred at length at the president-elect's home Wednesday evening. Bell had been highly recommended by Truman administration officials.

Bell, 41, is a native of California and was graduated from Pomona College there. Later he received his master's degree in economics at Harvard and then won a one-year fellowship at the Lippauer Public Administration School.

Red Planes Buzz American Craft

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Aviation Agency reported today that Soviet fighters have been buzzing American planes near the Kurile Islands. The FAA warned fliers to take special care to stay away.

The notice did not specify whether the buzzing incidents involved commercial or military flights, but was directed to commercial pilots flying the northern route to Japan. The Soviet-controlled Kuriles lie north of Japan.

For aircraft flying the Great Circle route between Tokyo and the United States, the Kuriles are close to the course.

Northwest and Pan American regularly fly this route. Neither has reported difficulty of the kind noted by the FAA.

Mercury in Big Plunge in Arkansas

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The mercury took the big plunge Thursday night—all the way down to six degrees at Gilbert—but a warming trend is supposed to take command of Arkansas weather today.

The six degree reading at Gilbert was the state's low for the season. It was cold all over, with Fayetteville reporting 14 degrees, Flippin 12, Fort Smith 19, Little Rock 15, Memphis 17, Walnut Ridge and Pine Bluff 18 and El Dorado 22.

Highs Thursday were generally in the 40s and high in the 40s to low 50s were forecast for today. Tonight's lows, however, are expected to be in the high 20s to mid 30s—nothing in the nature of six degrees.

No rain was reported in the state during the 24-hour period ending at 6 a.m. The only precipitation in the long-range forecast is showers for next Monday or Tuesday.

A Series of Church Meets in County

The regular first Sunday afternoon singing will be held Dec. 4 at 2 p.m. at New Liberty Church, five miles south of Emmet, it was announced by Horace Hamilton.

The Rev. Alvis Moore of Washington will speak at the Anderson Baptist Church at 10:45 a.m. and at 7:30 p.m., Sunday, Dec. 4.

A Youth Revival begins tonight at 7:30 at the Immanuel Baptist Church at 605 East Division with the Rev. Charles Fannin of Linden, Texas as the evangelist. The Rev. Floyd Hughes of Magnolia will be in charge of the singing.

Bell's Chapel Church of Nazareth of Blovin continues its revival meeting with the Rev. Bob Harrison in charge. Night services are at 7 p.m. and at 11 a.m. on Sunday when the meeting ends.

THAT'S PRETTY MAD — THIS ANGRY FRANTZ ELEMENTARY School mother, mad enough to kick someone, picked out the first seat that walked by, which happened to be that of a luckless newsmen covering the integration story in New Orleans, and let fly. Attendance at Frantz has dwindled to four white and one Negro students.

La. House Okays Grant in Aid Funds

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—The Louisiana House without debate today passed 84-0 a key bill to provide grant-in-aid funds for parents who wish to send their children to private schools.

Gov. Jimmie H. Davis' leaders led Rep. Arthur Crais of New Orleans, a cosponsor of the bill with them, briefly explain the measure.

There's nothing in the bill to tamper with the public school system, he added.

Crais stressed that State Supl. Shelby M. Jackson told him the new grants-in-aid program could be operated without additional taxes. Crais said he wanted to go on record now that "under no circumstances will I vote for any raise in taxes."

"We can do this," he said, "because the United States government itself is providing grants-in-aid for foreign students to study in this country."

The bill, apparently aimed at leaving to the parents a choice of keeping their children out of racially integrated schools, cleared the administration-controlled Senate Judiciary Committee Thursday within a minute.

The Senate returns for a 7 p.m. session. It will be ready to receive the grants-in-aid bill and to act on a House-approved bill to create a new school board for New Orleans.

There was no legislation in sight to do away with Louisiana's public school system.

Says U. S. Patrols Kept Out Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Guatemala told President Eisenhower today that the U.S. Navy and Air Force watch on the high seas off Central America has been decisive in preventing establishment of a Communist government in Guatemala.

President Miguel Ydigoras Fuentes of Guatemala expressed gratitude in a note to Eisenhower for ordering naval and air units to be on guard against any Communist-directed invasion of Guatemala or Nicaragua.

Fire Training Held at Hope Schools

The 13th annual Arkansas School of Fire Marshals' Training Conference was held Nov. 29 in the Hope High School auditorium with DuVal C. Pagan, state department of education and Carl Smalley fire prevention bureau, rating and inspection division, in charge.

A film on fire safety was shown and a demonstration on the uses of fire extinguishers was held. A fire inspection field trip was conducted in the school building.

There were approximately 70 marshals and deputy marshals in attendance from the following counties: Hempstead, Pike, Miller, Nevada, Little River, Clark. All Hope schools now have a marshal and a deputy marshal.

Prof. Bernard Lovell, director of the radio telescope at Jodrell Bank, said this could mean one of three things—the satellite has landed under command, it has burned up in the atmosphere, or it has suffered electronic failure.

Earlier today its signals were heard by two research stations in southern England. Listeners described them as fairly weak because at that time the satellite was at its extreme distance from the earth.

An act to set up a system of private schools, with parents given a choice between private or public schools, was started through the legislature in Baton Rouge.

Also expected to be given quick approval was a new act aimed at displacing the New Orleans School Board. A three-judge federal court Wednesday held that previous legislation to oust the board was unconstitutional.

The court said any legislation aimed at defeating what it called the constitutional rights of Negroes to attend desegregated schools will fail for the same reason.

Police swept a four-block strip near the William Frantz School clear of demonstrators and spectators Thursday. The action permitted parents to safely escort six white children from the school.

Parents of the six had outmaneuvered pickets to slip the children into the school. Only two white children were in attendance at the Frantz school the previous day.

Two U. S. marshals picked up the lone Negro student at Frantz and escorted her home.

Their last name is a mystery. No one knows their background. But this doesn't concern Jo Ann and Dianne. They sense Christmas is coming and they know Mama has just gone out to get some toys.

In the meantime, they sit in their high chairs next to the window, waiting.

Signals From Red Space Ship Stop

LONDON (AP) — British scientists reported that signals from the latest Soviet space ship stopped today.

Prof. Bernard Lovell, director of the radio telescope at Jodrell Bank, said this could mean one of three things—the satellite has landed under command, it has burned up in the atmosphere, or it has suffered electronic failure.

Earlier today its signals were heard by two research stations in southern England. Listeners described them as fairly weak because at that time the satellite was at its extreme distance from the earth.

11 Students Now Attending N. O. School

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Ten white students returned to classes at integrated William Frantz school today, sharply undermining the boycott backed by mothers of the area.

A small foreign car with two girls drove up in the sunny, but non-freezing, weather, catching reduced picket lines by surprise, apparently.

No one jeered until the two little girls mounted the school steps. Then the same make-car sped up with five children, and the Rev. Lloyd Foreman arrived by car with his daughter, Pamela Lynn, and two boys.

The one Negro first-grade girl brought total attendance at William Frantz to at least 11.

Only three Negro girls attended the city's other integrated school, McDonogh No. 19, at the normal opening hour.

Temperatures that dipped during the night into the low 30s cut the number of picketing mothers to about a dozen. One of these mothers told a reporter:

"You don't know how we are suffering. Our feet are freezing." The reporter said: "You can go home."

"You think we don't have to stay?" the woman asked. "We're working too; we can't leave."

The calls and jeers didn't pack the volume of Thursday at William Frantz, and at McDonogh only about 10 women hooted as seven U.S. deputy marshals escorted three Negro girls into school.

The William Frantz pupils were driven to school by drivers on-duty by Save Our Schools, an organization dedicated to keeping public schools open despite taken integration.

Police lightened an around-the-clock guard of the two integrated schools today, after angry women set upon bystanders during protests Thursday.

Temper flared Thursday in the wake of a federal court order knocking out more than two score of legislative acts aimed at keeping schools segregated.

Failure to effect a complete boycott of white pupils of one of the schools added to the ire of picketing women. Screaming and cursing, they manhandled a Tulane University student, a local attorney, a cameraman and a newspaper reporter.

The women were so aroused they set upon the reporter when he accidentally bumped into one of them while taking notes about an attack on the attorney.

U.S. Officially Labels Castro Government As Red Controlled

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States today officially labeled the Cuban government of Fidel Castro as Communist-controlled.

It did so by releasing $1 million for aid of Cuban refugees under a provision of the Mutual Security Act which permits such spending to assist refugees from Communist-controlled countries.

President Eisenhower released the money for aiding Cuban refugees in Florida.

In announcing the action, White House press secretary James O. Hangerly said, in reply to a question, that it means this country regards Cuba as Communist-controlled.

Tracy Voorhees, who has been looking into the Cuban refugee situation for Eisenhower, today was given formal status as the President's representative.

He told a news conference in Hangerly's office that he did not expect to use all of the money released by Eisenhower. Voorhees said he thought large amounts of aid money should come from charitable organizations, foundations, corporations, and individuals.

He said he thought what federal money was used would be largely for transporting refugees to find work.

Voorhees said there are about 30,000 Cuban refugees in Florida. He said the problem is being aggravated because more and more children are arriving without parents. He explained that each refugee can bring in only $5 in American money.

Winds Halt Salvage Work on Tanker

By ED ARKATY

TRAVISBURG CITY, Mich. (AP) — High winds today thwarted efforts to salvage a battered and leaking freighter grounded off an island in Lake Michigan.

Reluctant to give up the ship, the skipper and his crew remained aboard with three civilians who were studying how to free the vessel.

The captain's pregnant wife, Anastasia Trivizas, 29, of Athens, Greece, was taken from the Francisco Morazan Thursday by a boarding party from the Coast Guard cutter Mackinaw.

The attractive and plucky woman who is expecting a child in seven months had been on the ship since it grounded on a rock ledge off South Manitou Island in Lake Michigan Tuesday night.

Mrs. Trivizas did not want to leave the ship and her husband, Capt. Eduardo Trivizas, 26, but did so at her husband's request when she complained of pain.

On Nov. 4, Ford announced it would offer $20.50 a share for the outstanding 46.6 per cent of the stock of British Ford which it did not already hold. This would amount to about $300 million if accepted by all British stockholders.

On the strength of the Detroit bid, approved by the British government, the value of the British Ford shares soared.

Reps. spread that Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson had appealed to Henry Ford II to consider America's gold and dollar drain before going through with the deal and the shares fell sharply Thursday.

After the stock market closed, the British Treasury made it clear it would insist the deal be financed by dollars and said payment in shares or in sterling would not be acceptable.

Henry Ford II said in Detroit that he discussed the British purchase with Anderson in mid-November.

Authorities at nearby Holguin reported the rocket pieces plummeted onto a hillside near the city about 3 p. m. Wednesday. This was about 10 minutes after a rocket was fired from Cape Canaveral, Fla., in an attempt to put two satellites in orbit. The rocket was blown up in flight by remote control after a malfunction developed.

An Air Force spokesman in Washington said the serial numbers reported in the Cuban press make it likely that the fragments came from the defective rocket.

Cuban newspapers and broadcast— which seldom bother to report U. S. rocket successes but play up the failures to the hilt—called the rocket incident a "provocation" and "new aggression."

A picture of the local delegates to the Governors' Commission has been included in the Arkansas report to the President's Commission meet to be in Washington D. C. in January.

The daughter—Rose Ella Powell—threw nine brothers and sisters from the second story of the frame house before searing flames swept through the entire structure. Seven members of the family, including Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dana Powell and five children died in the fire.

The entire frame building had become "one big torch" by the time firemen arrived, and five fire companies stood by helplessly. Flames were so intense that the seventh body was not recovered until three hours after the alarm sounded this morning.

The burning house, which was in a tobacco-raising area of southern Maryland's Charles County, was spotted by several neighbors who called the alarm. Authorities believe the blaze may have started with an overheated wood-burning stove on the first floor.

Rose Ella and the nine shivering children she rescued received first aid for sprains and bruises. The Negro girl told firemen she had been awakened by her mother's call to save the children. Mrs. Powell and all the other victims but one were sleeping on the first floor.

Killed in the fire were Powell, 43, and his wife Viola, 45; their four children, James Henry, 12, Barbara Regina, 10, John Allen, 8, and Joseph, 3, and an 11-year-old cousin of the Powells, Philip G. Yates.

It doesn't matter whether a fellow is a man or a mouse, if a cat gets him anyway.

Ford Deal Brings U. S. Criticism

LONDON (AP) — The U.S. Treasury was the target of British criticism today stemming from reports it intervened in the bid by the Ford Motor Co. of Detroit to buy complete control of its British subsidiary.

"This move forces us to choose between breaking its word to British shareholders and appearing unpatriotic in America and unhelpful to President Eisenhower," commented the Daily Mail.

On Nov. 4, Ford announced it would offer $20.50 a share for the outstanding 46.6 per cent of the stock of British Ford which it did not already hold. This would amount to about $300 million if accepted by all British stockholders.

UN to Await Views of New President

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The General Assembly is planning an unusual winter recess to await the views of the new Kennedy administration in Washington.

The assembly, still in sort of a state of shock since Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's table-thumping antics at the start of this session, has not taken action on a single major issue in the past two months. It has given up hope of ending its business on the target date of Dec. 17.

Most delegates feel that the United States cannot make any hard decisions until Sen. John F. Kennedy takes over the presidency. They do not want the 99-nation assembly to reconvene before the middle of February.

Many hope that with a new U.S. president not bound by the commitments of the Eisenhower administration, the Soviet Union may take a more conciliatory position on its major conflicts with the United States.

So far the major accomplishments of the assembly have been the perennial decision to shelve Communist China's bid for membership and seat the Congo delegation backing President Joseph Kasavubu.

But other debates have so bogged down the schedule that night and Saturday meetings are set in the Trusteeship Committee and the assembly itself in a drive to clean up a bulging agenda of colonial issues before the recess in mid-December.

Still coming up for discussion are acrimonious debates on Hungary and Tibet, and resolutions by the Soviet Union and Cuba accusing the United States of aggression.

Next week the Political Committee takes up the question of the Algerian rebels' six-year war for independence from France. It is likely to produce plenty of verbal fireworks, with the Soviets joining in hot and heavy against the French. The Political Committee has indicated it also plans to go on a double schedule then.

Right now the Political Committee is discussing disarmament, a question on which its members would like to hear the views of the Kennedy administration. Most delegates want to avoid voting on rival proposals at this stage.

Lisa Can Ride Her 'Goldilocks' Again Because of Help From March of Dimes

A magnificent fairyland of a special kind, in which leg aches are still known but not felt so often as before, has just opened for four-year-old Lisa Sliker, of Leicester, N. Y.

"My doctors," the blue-eyed and auburn-haired Lisa tells everyone today, "have made my leg almost all well again. Now I can sit on my horse, Goldilocks, and I can walk to the barn on my crutches and see my kittens and the pigs."

The new lease on life accorded little Lisa is due in great measure to the treatment she continues to receive each month at the arthritis clinical study center at University of Rochester-Sirring Memorial Hospital, established with public contributions to the March of Dimes. Stricken three years ago with baffling rheumatoid arthritis in her right leg, the attractive child wore a cast for many months but now no longer wears it at night—although she goes to sleep hugging "my old leg" like a doll.

Lisa is one of 30,000 youngsters in the United States who are afflicted by rheumatoid arthritis which interferes with bone growth and may cause deformity. In addition to the study center visited by Lisa at Rochester, March of Dimes funds have made possible the opening of additional arthritis study centers in New York City, Dallas and San Francisco.

Mrs. Sliker recounts: "My husband and I were scared witless when Lisa's stumbling was diagnosed as provoked by rheumatoid arthritis, which somehow sounded like something that might strike your great-grandfather. But not strike down the beautiful, merry and innocent little baby with whom God had blessed us."

"It was a terrifying experience for us to watch Lisa lying motionless in her crib, pain in her eyes and face but holding back the tears. Her right knee was swollen to unbelievable size. But now that she is much better and some day may walk again unassisted by crutches, we pray that, like Lisa, others may be helped by the March of Dimes.

Mrs. Sliker is a volunteer worker in her county during the March of Dimes, collecting funds for the National Foundation's expanded program which includes significant birth defects together with arthritis and continued work in polio.

"My former husband helps me call on neighbors during January," Mrs. Sliker adds. "The snows are mountaintous at that time of year in our neck of the woods, but we both feel that helping the March of Dimes is the least we can do in return for the help given our Lisa."

CHAPTER XXIX

Hovering on the edge between consciousness and sleep, Janet turned on her side. How odd, she thought in a drowsy way, that they hadn't even seen his footprints in the snow. Footprints? What was it she wanted to remember? She buried her cheek in the pillow. Footprints...

She sat upright in bed, pulling the covers high under her chin. Of course. Those tracks leading from the woods to the back door. There had been something odd about them. Something she could not quite put her finger on...

She knocked a book to the floor and paused a moment to throw an answer over her shoulder in response to Johnny's query, "What's wrong, Mom?"

"Nothing. Go back to sleep." She switched on lights in hasty succession on her way to the back door. She stepped outside oblivious to the wind that penetrated her robe while she sought and found the footprints she had seen before.

There they were, still visible in spite of a light rain, large and neat and decisive in their march from the woods to the door. The door left open all day long. She glanced to the right, then to the left. Nothing but a bland expanse of snow. No other footprints pointed in an opposite direction. Here were only these single tracks, one lying in front of the other, heading to the door.

She reached to the front door, flinging it open, answering Johnny's puzzled, "What are you doing, Mom?" sharply. Only a blanket of snow, beginning to melt, met her eyes.

Her mind whirled round and round returning like a boomerang to one inescapable fact. Who ever had come in had not gone out.

"Did you find Junior?" Johnny's voice floated down the stairs. "No," she gasped, then recognizing the fear in her voice, forced herself to add in even measured tones, "Go to sleep now, Johnny."

She was puzzled. Why had he not attacked before if that was his plan? He had had the entire evening at his disposal. Did he plan to kill her? Why would anyone want to kill her... kill Janet Hamilton? Why did someone want to kill Janet? She asked herself. Yet someone had.

Her tired mind could not answer. She stiffened thinking of Johnny and Bruce. Would the intruder grow tired of waiting. She headed for the kitchen, away from the upstairs where the boys slept, an atavistic instinct urging her on. She knew that there was only one hiding place. The basement. She had looked for Junior in every other conceivable place in the house. Only the basement remained unsearched.

She must get help. She dared not use the telephone in the kitchen. The intruder would hear her.

There was no other telephone downstairs. She shrank from going upstairs, leading him to her boys. The nearest house was a quarter of a mile away. Her privacy now seemed a trap of her own making.

She steered herself to walk steadily into the kitchen, menacing in its quietness, her eyes riveted to the handle of the basement door. Fervently she wished she'd heeded her mother's advice and had put a sturdy lock on the basement door. Or any lock.

The doorknob had not moved. She had not yet aroused his suspicions. The thing to do was to make him believe that one of the boys was still awake, to stall, to match her wits against his until...

...Desperately her mind raced ahead, planning and rejecting, clutching at what seemed the only chance. But what if Johnny were awake and answered?

She drew a deep breath and lifted her voice a little, willing it to stay steady, praying that Johnny—and Bruce—were sound asleep.

"Now look, Johnny." Her voice gained strength as she tried to sound cross. "You've got to go to sleep. It's terribly late for you. What are you doing down here?"

All was quiet on the second floor. The first hurdle crossed. She walked over to the dining room door and projected her voice. "You have a stomachache? All that candy. All right. You can sit there at the dining room table for a few minutes while I — while I —" What would seem like a normal 11 o'clock task? "I'll finish up those dishes in the sink."

Not once did she draw her eyes away from the basement door. The door moved slightly. She stiffened. It stayed at the fractional opening, and she relaxed, then tightened again. She could not afford even a momentary respite.

She eyed the extra long cord she had had installed on the kitchen telephone. She tiptoed over to the phone and softly dialed a number while she rattled two pawns in her hand and said she knew not what.

The ringing in her ear sounded like a flight of jets. It went on and on. No one answered. She was about to hang up, to concede defeat when a grumpy voice said, "Hello," and her knees shook along with the pawns she clutched.

She crossed quietly over to the dining room door, the phone cradled on her shoulder, saying into the mouthpiece, "Well, where does it hurt, Johnny?"

"What in the..." the voice at the other end of the line spluttered.

Words tumbled out of her mouth. "If you're going to be sick, Johnny Hamilton, come quickly—over to the sink."

"Is this a gag?"

"Come quickly, please."

Archbishop of England, Pope Meet

By FRANK BRUTTO

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Archbishop of Canterbury conferred with Pope John XXIII for more than an hour in the pontiff's private study today.

The archbishop left Vatican City at 1:16 p.m. an hour and nine minutes after entering the study.

Pope John, who has just passed his 79th birthday, is the supreme pontiff of the world's 800 million Roman Catholics.

It was the first such meeting since King Henry VIII of England broke away from papal authority in the 16th century.

The archbishop, 73, who suggested the meeting, came here from visits to Orthodox Church patriarchs in Jerusalem and Istanbul.

Arrangements for the archbishop's visit were simple, unmarked by the fanfare that accompanies official visits of heads of state to the Vatican.

The archbishop when asked before the meeting what would be discussed, said simply: "We shall talk about nothing and about everything. We will talk in terms of Christian friendship and courtesy."

Faubus Moves His Political Paper

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas Recorder, owned by Gov. Orval E. Faubus, today moved its editorial offices from Little Rock to Conway.

Announcement of the move came from Frank Robbins III and Hubert L. Ferguson, officers of the Conway Printing Company, who will become co-publishers with Faubus.

The paper will be changed from tabloid size to regular newspaper size.

Ed Dozier, former executive secretary of the Arkansas L-P Gas Association, was appointed advertising director. The Advertising offices will remain in Little Rock.

Tribesmen Attack Katanga Town

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (AP) — Three thousand rebel tribesmen laid siege to the tiny southern Katanga coal-mining town of Luena today, after an abortive dawn attack.

First radio signals from Luena said the rebels attacked the African section of the town and after bitter fighting were driven off by U. N. Moroccan troops and a handful of Katanga police.

At least three African townspeople were killed.

Final Vote on Alford's Win

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Rep. Dale Alford of Little Rock, the only one of Arkansas' six Democratic House incumbents to draw opposition, was re-elected by an official vote of 57,617 to 12,054, the secretary of state's office announced today.

Alford's opponent for the 5th District seat was L. J. Churchill of Dover. Churchill ran as an independent after a court ruling that he had not qualified as the Republican candidate.

With Woodruff County still unreported in this race, Sen. John L. McClellan got 377,036 votes for re-election. Marvin Fuchs of Havana, who announced he was a write-in candidate against McClellan, received 449 votes.

The statewide totals by which Sen. John F. Kennedy and Gov. Orval E. Faubus carried Arkansas had been announced previously.

Friday — Oven fried fish, potato salad, carrot and celery sticks, cherry cobbler, buttered rolls and milk.

Part of U. S. Space Rocket Falls in Cuba

By HAROLD K. MILKS

HAVANA (AP) — Fragments of a space rocket launched from Cape Canaveral, Fla., landed in eastern Cuba Wednesday, bringing charges of "a new provocation of imperialism" from the Cuban press.

The Cuban News Agency said rocket debris rained on several settlements around Holguin, Cuba's third largest city, causing "loud explosions and great alarm."

A military headquarters spokesman at Holguin said some of the rocket fragments weighed as much as 40 pounds but caused no damage. He said they struck a hillside 10 miles from the center of the city at about 3 p.m.

The rocket had been launched in an attempt to put two satellites in orbit, but was destroyed in flight when a malfunction developed.

A Defense Department spokesman in Washington said he could not exclude the possibility that parts of the rocket might have struck Cuba as reported adding: "We certainly are concerned about it and we are investigating it further."

Farmers reported the incident to authorities. They said the fragments looked like pieces of a falling airplane.

Holguin lies near the north shore of easternmost Oriente Province, roughly 500 miles from Havana.

A two-headed U S space rocket was fired from Cape Canaveral, Fla., at 2:50 p.m. The rocket was later destroyed in flight.

A spokesman for the semi-official newspaper Revolution said markings on the fragments which fell clearly identified them as made in the United States.

Sources at Cape Canaveral were concerned lest the rocket fall on Cuban soil and provide a new occasion for Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government to assail the United States for "aggression" against Cuba.

The Cuban news agency said rocket debris rained on several settlements around Holguin, causing "loud explosions and great alarm."

The incident seemed likely to provide ammunition for fresh attacks on the United States by Cuba in either the United Nations or the Organization of American States, and possibly in both.

Castro's Cuban news agency quoted the U. S. State Department as saying the rocket was deliberately exploded while over Cuba.

The path of the 80-foot Thor-Able Star rocket would have taken it over Cuba on its way down the U. S. Atlantic missile test range.

Meantime, the Castro government today is seeking a small band of counter revolutionaries alleged to have killed Maj. Manuel Fajardo, commander of rural militia in the Escambray Mountains. Fajardo was a doctor with Castro's forces in the fighting days of the revolution and nursed the Prime Minister through pneumonia last summer.

An Army announcement said three militiamen and Fajardo were killed as they chased five rebels, two of whom were caught.

The clash coincided with 10 bombings in Havana Wednesday and the night before which recalled the sabotage attacks used by Castro to undermine former dictator Fulgencio Batista. Only one person was injured by the bombs but electric power for Havana's business district was knocked out and was not restored until Wednesday night.

Other bombs exploded near a brewery, damaged water installations and broke windows at the headquarters for Castro's urban reform program.

From Paris come these new hairstyles displaying the new look of the small, sleek head. But each of these styles, however casual it may seem, depends on expert cutting. If your hair has some natural curl, you won't need a permanent. But if your hair is straight, you'll need a permanent for body. Short, short hair (left) displays swirled back with little tendrils at the nape of the neck. The rounded, curved bang is used (center) in combination with cheek curls. Hair is swept forward from the crown to achieve bangs. The small, neat head as most American women will probably prefer it (right) has hair swept across forehead in longish bangs. Hair is cut carefully in layers. Hairstyles shown are by Antoine of Paris.

Wife Carries on Clandestine Romance

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKIN

Dear Helen:

I am a woman of 28 and should know my own mind. I'm married to a man of 49, who has never been married before. We have two tiny children, I love my husband as a father but not as a husband. That I do know.

A man who is our friend has a wife who fights him all the time. I love this man. We have secretly kept company three years. He is willing to go away with me if I say the word. My husband has a good job, so has this other man.

Should I stay here with a man I don't love, or go away and make two lives — his and mine — happy? He also loves my children. —Desperate.

Dear Desperate: Your first mistake was in marrying a man 21 years older than you. But he shouldn't be penalized for that nor should your children. Does he love you? Did you ever love him? And how about the other man? Maybe his wife senses his clandestine affair and understandably his back.

You have been considering only yourself. Start thinking of the others for a change. Your first responsibility is to your family. Put that man out of your life. I could tell you your own good.

Dear Helen:

What and who is a husband? This is what I think a husband should be: a man that comes home after work, kisses his wife, sits over a cup of coffee and talks about the day.

Mind comes in and kisses me but that's all. A cup of coffee—not a word—then to bed until sun-monia last summer.

Red Leaders' Talk 'Warm, Friendly'

By STANLEY JOHNSON

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev had a "warm and friendly" talk with top-ranking Communist Chinese leaders, the Soviet news agency Tass reported today, and there were indications that an extraordinarily long Red summit meeting has ended.

The agency said Khrushchev, along with top Soviet theoretician Mikhail Suslov and the premier's right-hand man in the Communist party leadership, Frol Kozlov, met with the visiting Chinese.

It was the first public mention of Liu Shao-chi, president of Red China, since the press reported his presence on the reviewing stand at the Nov. 7 revolution anniversary parade. It also was the first mention of the presence in Moscow of Hsiao Ping, general secretary of the Chinese Communist Central Committee, and Peng Chong, powerful member of the Red Chinese Politburo. Both sat in on the talks with the Soviet leaders.

For more than 20 days, international Communists have been meeting in Moscow, and the indications have been that the discussions included exchange of tough talk on matters of Communist party theory, tactics and strategy. The Chinese are believed to object to the general line of Khrushchev's foreign policy, that is, key to the theme that nuclear war can be avoided.

Tass announced that the Polish Communist delegation, headed by Wladyslaw Gomulka, had left for home. That was a strong sign that the talks had ended, since Gomulka is believed to be a sort of arbiter between Peking and Moscow.

Sentenced for Part in Sitdowns

Little Rock (AP) — Municipal Judge Quinn Glover today fined Charles Parker, 22, of St. Louis $500 and sentenced him to six months in jail for his part in an anti-integration sit-in demonstration here Wednesday. Glover passed trial of six other Negroes accused in the same incident until Dec. 10. But he told Parker he could not overlook the fact that Parker had been in court before on a similar charge. Parker was one of five Negroes arrested in Little Rock's first sit-in last summer. Parker and six other Negroes, one a girl, were arrested Wednesday at Woolworth's, a downtown

We wish to thank our many friends and neighbors for their help and kind deeds since our home burned.

Steelworkers Get More Pay Raises

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Basic Steelworkers got a pay raise today, the first of two under their current contract.

This meant higher payroll costs for steel producers, but as expected, there was no word of any impending price increases.

Spokesmen for U. S. Steel Corp., the nation's biggest steel producer, and Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp., the fourth largest, said they expected no announcements of any kind today on prices. They declined further comment.

About 645,000 United Steelworkers Union members became eligible for wage boosts ranging from 7 to 13 cents an hour, depending on job classification.

A union-estimated 80,000 of these did not benefit immediately because they were unemployed.

The basic steel industry currently is operating below 50 percent of capacity, and no significant pickup is expected in the next few months.

For this reason, industry sources believe steel prices will remain steady in the immediate future. A price boost at this time these sources think would only tend to aggravate market weaknesses and undermine the steel's competitive position.

There are more health insurance organizations operating in Texas than any other state. These include 379 insurance companies, two Blue Cross-Blue Shield and Medical Society plans, and 14 other insuring plans.

Bobcats Open Cage Season Here Tonight

By Vince Foster
Hope Star Sports Writer

Friday night at 7 o'clock in Jones Field House, the Hope Senior Basketball team begins its 1960-61 season with the Arkadelphia Badgers in a non-conference game. The Hope Junior Bobcats will also begin their new season in a preliminary bout with the Arkadelphia Juniors, beginning at 7 p.m.

Then Saturday the Bobcats and the B team travel to Little Rock for a couple of games with Big 9 teams from Hall High.

This week the Cats have practiced twice a day. They plan to hold a couple of full game scrimmages. Head Coach Billy Mitchell said he couldn't tell too much right now, but that Danny Hatfield, who came up from the B team and Glen Calhoun, the only returning starter from last year, were looking very good. "Hatfield has shown more improvement than any one else and he ought to really help out this year," Coach Mitchell said.

The Bobcats only have six returning lettermen with Churchwell Duke, Robinson, Arnett, Calhoun and Walters. Hatfield, and Larry Hooten, 6'2", Roberts 6'11/2, Fry, and Powell 5'10" have come up from last year's B squad.

The probable starting lineup for the Cats today will include: Glen Calhoun, guard; Gene Robinson, 6' guard or forward; Danny Hatfield or Billy Walters at center; Curtis Churchwell, forward; Edward Fry at center or forward; and Joe Duke as guard.

Coach Mitchell had this to say: "If the taller boys, who have just come out after football season, come through for me, we ought to take these two this weekend."

The 4AA Jr. Championship defending Bobkittens, coached by Wesley Huddleson, will be depending on two starters of last year, Mack McLarty and Dan Jones, plus lettermen Richard McDowell and Larry Thrash on Friday.

Harris Named to 3rd All Star Team

NEW YORK (AP) — Arkansas' Wayne Harris has been named third team center on the Associated Press All-America football team and three other Razorbacks have received honorable mention.

End Jimmy Collier, halfback; Lance Alworth, and quarterback George McKinney made the honorable mention list.

Fred Hageman of Batesville, Ark., a former University of Arkansas griddle now playing center for Kansas, also received honorable mention. Tom Watkins of West Memphis, an Iowa State back, is on the honorable mention list.

Lake Ouachita: Low and clear. Bass fair on minnows and artificial bait.

Lake Greason: Clear and normal. Black bass fair on artificial bait.

Bull Shoals Lake: Black bass fair on artificial bait.

Lake Conway: Clear and normal. All fishing fair.

Lake Norfolk: Bass fair on deep running plugs.

Lake Catherine: No good fishing.

Hendrix Has Decided to Drop Football

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — Hendrix College has dropped football because the sport wasn't paying its own bills.

The Methodist Church-supported school here announced yesterday that it would not field a team next year but that football scholarships would be honored.

Hendrix president Dr. Marshall T. Steele said the football program was costly and a detriment to the academic program of the school.

The board of trustees voted to abandon the football program and Steel broke the news Thursday to the faculty, student body and the team.

"The players were very upset about it," he said. "But we will honor their scholarships and we hope they will stay at Hendrix."

He said the players would be eligible to compete for other schools if they wish to transfer.

Hendrix has competed in intercollegiate football for 55 years and once carried the University of Arkansas and Ole Miss on its schedule. But since 1956 it has granted only partial subsidy to 25 athletes.

Hendrix finished sixth in the nine-team AIC this year with a 3-3-1 conference record and a 3-5-1 overall chart. Crowds at Warlick games have been small.

Steele said the school would concentrate on its basketball program and spring sports. A $700,000 field house is under construction.

He said the school would maintain its membership in the AIC. One other league school, Arkansas College in Batesville, does not compete in football.

Wins Battle to Escape the Chair

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Frank Andrew Payne won his five-year fight to escape death in the electric chair.

The 24-year-old Negro Thursday was sentenced to life imprisonment for the fatal beating of Pine Bluff lumberman J.N. Robertson, 69, in 1955.

Twice Payne was found guilty of first degree murder and sentenced to die in the electric chair. Both convictions were overturned. An all-male Jefferson Circuit Court jury Thursday found him guilty of first degree murder, but set a life term.

Payne has spent most of the last five years on death row at Tucker Prison Farm.

The U.S. Supreme Court set aside the first verdict after Payne's lawyers contended that the Negro's confession was coerced.

The Arkansas Supreme Court overturned the second verdict in a 4 to 3 decision. The majority said testimony about a re-enactment.

Harris was ranked third at center behind Roy McKasson of Washington and E.J. Holub of Texas Tech. Harris is a senior McKinney, Alworth and Collier are juniors.

Alworth, Collier and Harris made the All-Southwest Conference team and McKinney made second team.

When to Fish or Hunt Solunar Tables

Fullmer Is Favored Over Sugar Ray

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Preflight speculation and excitement prevailed today except among the principals — Gene Fullmer, NBA world middleweight champion and ex-champion Sugar Ray Robinson.

They clash for the third time Saturday night for 15 rounds or less, with a national television audience watching via the ABC network. Fight time is 7 p.m., PST at the Sports Arena.

Fullmer, the serious, 29-year-old from West Jordan, Utah, remains a 3-1 betting favorite over the Harlem dancing dandy, 39-year-old Sugar Ray.

Fullmer is recognized throughout most of the world as king of the 10-pounders, and Robinson will be taking an unprecedented bid to win the crown for the sixth time in his amazing career.

Paul Pender of Boston is recognized as the champion in two non-NBA states, New York and Massachusetts.

George Gainsford, Robinson's manager, said his man was in good spirits and, more important, in top condition. In his last public workout at his Gilman Hot Springs training camp, the Sugarman seemed a bit edgy. But later he relaxed and talked amiably about the fight.

Fullmer, who has made every sort of public appearance for publicity's sake, was hardly tied with tension. He attended a local Rotary luncheon Thursday.

Fullmer whipped Robinson for the title in 15 rounds in New York Jan. 2, 1957. Robinson won it back on a fifth-round knockout May 1, 1957, in Chicago.

College Cage Season Opens With Upsets

By JOHN CHANDLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The college basketball season opened with an astonishing upset Thursday night. Utah, regarded as one of the top teams in the country, took it on the chin from Los Angeles Loyola 85-64, after blowing an early 25-12 lead.

Ohio State, the NCAA champion, and Bradley, the National Invitational Tourney winner, got off on the right foot, however, as did Cincinnati and Kentucky.

Heavily favored Bradley, which beat Providence in the NIT final in New York last March, went right down to the wire before knocking off Minnesota 62-58.

All America Jerry Lucas pumped in 20 points to lead Ohio State to an 85-64 victory over Ohio University. Ohio State won the NCAA tournament over California last March.

Cincinnati, minus the graduated All America Oscar Robertson, smothered Indiana State 90-51 as the new Bearcats' coach, Ed Jucker, got his club away to a fast start.

Lucas dropped in five baskets as Ohio State took a quick lead against Ohio University, and at halftime it was all over as the Buckeyes held a 40-26 advantage.

Bradley blew an 18-point lead, but managed to pull it off in the final 65 seconds. Mack Herndon sank a 20-foot jump shot to put Bradley ahead 60-58. Herndon and 6-6 Chuck Walker then converted two free throws to make it certain.

Ed Bento led Loyola to its upset over Utah and 6-9 Billy (The Hill) McGill. Bento was top scorer with 30 points. McGill got 28 for the Utes.

St. Bonaventure, showing all of its power of last season, bumped off John Carroll 109-45. Miami of Florida trampled Rollins 80-62 and Auburn, one of the top teams in the Southeastern Conference, poured it on at Livingston State 90-50.

British in Protest of Picture Ban

LONDON (AP) — British newspapers today protested a Vatican ban on photographs of the meeting between the Pope and the Archbishop of Canterbury.

There were several press suggestions that Roman Catholic authorities viewed the meeting with a degree of coolness.

The "no photographs" edict gives the impression that the ecclesiastical authorities here are curiously nervous," reported the Daily Telegraph from Rome.

"There has been a good deal of comment here on the coolness of the episcopate to arise again in 1850. Scotland restored it in at the Vatican and in particular 1873.

from strict observance of the protocol applicable to any ordinary private audience of the Pope."

Roman Catholics, who were almost suppressed in Britain during the Reformation, viewed the meeting of the archbishop and the Pope as a great move forward toward their acceptance in this Protestant kingdom.

There are 27 million baptized Anglicans in Britain. The Roman Catholics claim 3,553,000.

After the Reformation the Roman church was extinguished in England and Wales, and eventually in Scotland. It nearly died, but not quite, in Ireland.

England did not allow the Catholic episcopate to arise again until 1850. Scotland restored it in at the Vatican and in particular 1873.

All-American Team Fails to List Arkansan

By TED SMITS
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A mammoth line and a backfield built around Navy's Joe Bellino, the Heisman Award winner, highlighted the 1960 All-American announced today by The Associated Press.

With Bellino in the backfield are Jake Gibbs, Mississippi; Pervis Atkins, New Mexico State; and Bob Ferguson, Ohio State.

The line is composed of Dan La Rose, Missouri, 221 pounds, and Mike Dilka, Pitt, 218, ends; Ken Rice, Auburn, 250; and Bob Lilly, Texas Christian, 248, tackles; Tom Brown, Minnesota, 224, and Don Baine, Yale, 215, guards; and Roy McKasson, Washington, 205, center.

The team was selected on the graded recommendations of eight regional boards of sports writers and newsmen who also voted on the top ten throughout the season. All games through Nov. 2 were taken into account.

Bellino was a standout in a season in which, generally, attention centered on the line rather than the backfield. He scored 110 points for Navy's Orange Bowl-bound team, including 18 touchdowns, and gained 834 yards rushing, 200 yards catching 17 passes, and threw five passes for 112 yards.

The 5-9, 181-pound halfback wound up his academy career in a blaze of glory by intercepting a pass on the goal line in the closing moments of the Army-Navy game, saving Navy's 17-12 lead.

Little Loop Baseballers Meet Sat.

All boys in the 5th, 6th and 7th grades that are interested in playing Little League Baseball, are to report to Jones Field House at 2 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 17.

All boys in the above grades are eligible except players who are one of the first 10 on a Junior Basketball squad. Other players on a Jr. squad may play with the coaches permission. All boys who played on a team last year will remain on that same team with newcomers filling in the rosters.

Anyone interested in coaching one of these teams should contact Charles Gough. Last season, the teams were coached by members of the "B" and Jr. Basketball teams, who did a commendable job.

Wreck Injuries Fatal to Man

PIGGOTT, Ark. (AP) — E. J. Bradberry, 18, of McDougal, Clay County, was injured fatally early today when his light truck struck a culvert seven miles west of Piggott on Highway 62.

Bradberry, who was alone, died in a hospital here several hours after the accident.

the ball 65 times for 611 yards in New Mexico State's unbeaten season. He caught 21 passes for 468 yards. He stands 6-1 and weighs 190 and was drafted before his senior year by the Los Angeles Rams.

Ferguson, the only junior on the team, is a 217-pounder who was moved from halfback to fullback and crashed through for Ohio State with 13 touchdowns and 853 yards rushing.

Gibbs, who weighs 185, completed 96 of 102 passes for 970 yards and 12 touchdowns, and wound up the regular season by connecting on 13 of 15 passes against Mississippi State. He also was rated the most dangerous runner on an unbeaten but once tied team, and is a good punter as well.

Not far behind the first team backfield comes a second team combination of Francis Tarkenton, Georgia; Bill Kilmer, UCLA; Ron Bull, Baylor; and Ernie Davis, Syracuse.

End Dilka, who caught 11 passes for 229 yards and two touchdowns, was most feared for his hard tackling and blocking. Buddy Parker of the Pittsburgh Steelers called him "the best college player in the country." La Rose, at stars.

Baine, the first Yale All-American in a quarter century, was the key to the Elis' perfect season. Big and bruising, he was mechanically perfect on every play. He paired at guard with Tom Brown of Minnesota, possibly the best lineman in the nation. In the climactic game in which Minnesota beat Iowa, Brown blocked on plays that accounted for more than half Minnesota's gains, as well as effectively smothering Iowa's attack.
